RED CROSS SEALS WILL FIGHT WHITE PLAGUE
American housewives in the past two years have heard much about waste and thrift.

They have been urged to save the wheat and the meat, that a hungry world might be fed. These lessons in conservation will not soon be forgotten.

The post-war era, however, has just brought to light the greatest waste of all—the needless slaying of thousands of workers each year and consequent money loss of a half billion dollars.

The white plague claims 150,000 lives yearly. Over 1,200,000 men, women and children in the United States today are its victims.

Eight out of every ten adults are at some time in their lives infected with the germs, but although healthy people are able to resist their ravages unless his resistance becomes lowered, when the disease is likely to develop.

"Medical science has proved that tuberculosis, or consumption, as it used to be called, is both preventable and curable," says Dr. Charles J. Hatfield, managing director of the National Tuberculosis Association, New York, which is sponsor of an annual sale of Red Cross Christmas seals, which will be held Dec. 1 to 10. This organization, the leading agency in the United States for the control of the white plague, is financed chiefly by funds from the Christmas seal sale.

The purpose of the seal sale is to help immediately by the sale of Red Cross seals upon the individual," continued Dr. Hatfield. "It is in this respect that the women of the country can help immediately by the sale of Red Cross seals upon the individual."

The housewife can do much to ward off the disease.

The cure for tuberculosis lies in nature's own gifts of sunlight, fresh air, good food and plenty of rest in cheerful surroundings under competent medical supervision.

Dr. Hatfield also made it clear that women could contribute directly to the fight against the tuberculosis by the sale of Red Cross seals.

"They are not only messengers of hope and cheer," he concluded, "but they are apostles of thrift."

The seal sale will be held under the direction of the Connecticut tuberculosis commission, which is composed of Dr. Stephen J. Moore of New Haven, Dr. F. D. F. Dawley, Salvation Army, John A. Dunn, H. Pettis, Lucius Brown, E. E. Prummer, J. P. Cogswell, C. W. Bailey, C. R. Bogue, W. S. Alling, W. S. Allis, Jas. W. Semple, Oliver Armstrong, M. M. Dunham, Dr. E. Kirby, Dr. C. K. Tingle, Ed. RECOMMEND 7 MILL TOWN TAX

In the coming annual town meeting the selectmen are to recommend a tax of 7 mills, which is no more than the town tax last year.

First Selectman Casper K. Bailey has just made up the annual report for the past year and the estimate of receipts and expenses for the coming year. The way the town business has without making a very handsome financial showing and in fact sets a record when it is shown that the town debt has been reduced by $84,670.96 in the past two years, leaving the debt now at approximately $100,000.

The cash balance on hand is $60,726, but there are a number of items to be paid out of this. These include $2,600 balance on the town bridge at Sturtevant street, Norwich town, $2,450 balance on the Eighth Street bridge, Greenville, $20,000 for the Taftville-Lisbon bridge as soon as it is accepted, $900 balance on Lafayette street improvement, $2,584 to be returned to the liquor dealers if they don't have a chance to open again.

For the 1918 and 1919, for the 1919 state highway work to be already paid for, the town has already paid $10,000 for the same work.

When these sums are paid there will be a cash balance of about $19,000 to begin the new year with. Last year the cash balance carried over was $6,602.81.

Without money coming in from liquor licenses for the next year the town would be in a very tight place. This is what the selectmen will recommend. The license money has usually been about $33,000 yearly, but this year it is estimated that there is over $9,000 of the amount that will have to be returned.

All of the town bills have been paid or are being paid for. The goal for the almshouse is all in and paid for.

The two bridges which the town was called on to build during the year were extra work that had not been foreseen, but they were both paid for.

They were the bridge at Sturtevant street and the other at Eighth street and they cost over $12,000. Extra expenses at the town meeting will be about $12,000. The item of $15,000 for highways in town is $3,000 more than last year on account of higher wages that have to be paid.
